

Your Name:

Email Address:

Dropoff locations:

- Front door mail slot at the Edmonds Historical Museum at 118 5th Ave N (top of stairs)
- The Edmonds Historical Museum's info booth at the Summer Market

One winner will be randomly drawn each week July 9th - September 10th and will be notified via email.

Enter to win a custom Lovin' Summer t-shirt each week!

1. Answer each scavenger hunt question
2. Fill out your contact information inside
3. Drop off your completed form at one of the indicated locations

One winner will be randomly drawn each week July 9th-September 10th and will be notified via email.

Scan the code below for more information:

Family Scavenger Hunt

Have fun in the sun as you find these landmarks, historical locations and just fun stuff around Edmonds!

Family Scavenger Hunt

Answer each question, then turn in your form for a chance to win a custom Lovin' Summer t-shirt!

#1 This "sisterly" gift is of carved stone from Hekinan, Japan. Surrounded by shrubberies in Centennial Plaza, this gift keeps our friendship bright! Matches not required.

What is it?

#2 A time capsule is buried below this resonant piece of Edmonds from the 1890's in the Edmonds Museum Plaza.

What is it?

#3 You can make a wish, drive around me in the center of town, and never stay dry.

What is it?

#4 In dinosaur, "RAWR" means I love you. And we love this life-sized Cretaceous Period creature guarding the north side of Main Street.

What store is he in?

#5 This "main" roadway links the old city boundary at 9th Ave N to the Puget Sound. Don't tread on this Edmonds founder before you cross the street! His name is stamped between 6th and 5th Ave N.

What is his first name?

#6 Before the silver screen brought talkies to the Princess Theatre, this "reliable" building halfway up Main showcased the first motion picture in Edmonds.

What business is there now?

#7 Ballet, photography, and Zumba—oh my! Now a community hub 7 streets up Main from the water, this former grade school is named after an admired Edmonds student, teacher, and principal.

What is it now?

#8 This blue and pillared "socialist hall" on Dayton used to loom over the social activities of early Edmonds. Downstairs you could bowl, upstairs you could catch a play, play basketball, or a hand of cards!

What name is on the building?

#9 This little piggy went to market? Or did this little piggy visit a craft brewery for lunch across the street?

Where is the little piggy?

#10 Go here to enjoy a gelato, Mexican cuisine, or be lulled by the "old" timey charm on 5th Ave S.

Where am I?

#11 It's big and red and looks like it belongs on a country farm—and on weekends you can get a great workout here!

What is it?

#12 "Ewe" can dance for joy with these two happy sheep on 5th Ave S!

Where are they located?

#13 A hundred years ago you could use your library card...or spend the night in jail! These impressive concrete steps lead you up to Carnegie's vision and hope for higher learning. Head back towards where you started and drop your scavenger hunt cards here in the mail slot!

What is it?

